Hess helps deliver holiday cheer to Dickinson's children in need

Dickinson, N.D., December 8, 2016 -- Hess Corporation, in association with United Way, will donate 108 of its 2016 Hess Toy Truck and Dragster to children in the Dickinson area. The Hess Toy Trucks have been delivered to the local United Way of Dickinson, where they plan to distribute them through their area non-profit agencies and schools.

"The Hess Toy Truck has been a holiday tradition since 1964," said Steve McNally, Hess North Dakota General Manager. "We're pleased to partner with United Way to help brighten the holiday season for families in need throughout North Dakota."

Along with the Hess Toy Trucks that will be distributed in Dickinson, trucks will be delivered through United Way efforts in Bismarck, Minot, and Williston. In total, more than 1,025 Hess Toy Trucks are set to brighten the holidays of children in the state.

"Hess has been a great community partner and we appreciate giving back to those in need for the holidays not only in our community but across western North Dakota", said Nichole De Leon, executive director of United Way of Dickinson.

The 2016 truck features LED lights, a slide-out ramp, and four realistic sounds, including a race-starting countdown. The dragster's innovative weight-transfer design and pull-back friction motor enable launch in either a flat or wheelie position. The two vehicles feature green accents, sleek chrome styling and more than 50 lights. For more information, visit www.hesstoytruck.com.
